According to the City of Grant's Zoning Ordinance, a variance "is a modification or variation of the strict provisions of this Ordinance as applied to a specific piece of property in order to provide relief for a property owner because of undue hardship or practical difficulty imposed upon the property by this Ordinance. Checklist:

Please review the attached checklist. Minnesota State Statute 15.99 provides the City of Grant 15 business days to determine the application’s completeness. Completeness depends on whether or not the applicable checklist items are fulfilled and submitted with your application.

Review Deadline and Timeline:

All applications must be received by the deadlines as posted on the City’s website. Failure to submit by the date shown may result in a delay in the scheduling of the application for public hearing. Meeting the deadline does not guarantee that an application will be heard at the next meeting. To improve likelihood of appearing on an agenda, it is recommended that applications be submitted earlier than deadline.

According to Minnesota State Statute 15.99 a Variance has a Statutory review period of 60 days, with the City’s ability (which includes city staff and consultants) to extend the review for an additional 60 days if necessary due to insufficient information, directive to provide additional information, the tabling or postponement of an application, lack of quorum, or schedules.

Application for Planning Consideration Fee Statement:

(Please read carefully and understand your responsibilities associated with this land use application)

The City of Grant has set forth a fee schedule by City Ordinance as posted on the City’s website. The City of Grant utilizes consulting firms to assist in the review of projects. What is a Practical Difficulty?

“Practical Difficulty” as used in connection with the granting of a Variance means:

- The proposed use of the property and associated structures in question cannot be established under the conditions allowed by the Zoning Ordinance or its amendments and no other reasonable alternate use exists.
- The plight of the landowner must be due to physical conditions unique to the land, structures, or buildings in the same zoning district.
- These unique conditions of the site cannot be caused or accepted by the landowner after the effective date of the Zoning Ordinance or its amendments.
- Economic considerations alone shall not constitute a hardship.

City of Grant Zoning Ordinance (Chapter 32, Sec. 32-60)

The Variance, if granted, shall not alter the essential character of the locality.

Those applying for a Variance must describe the specific circumstances which would constitute a practical difficulty. The application must include a written narrative that describes the Variance request and addresses the three factors - reasonable use, unique circumstances, and essential character of the locality - of practical difficulty.

Circumstances which normally constitute a practical difficulty relate to lot size, setbacks, steep slopes and wetlands but cannot be created by the landowner. It is incumbent upon the applicant to explain the case for a practical difficulty, which will form the basis for granting or denying the Variance request.

Review and Recommendation by the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission shall consider oral or written statements from the Applicant, the public, city staff and its consultants and/or its own members. It may question the Applicant and may recommend approval, disapproval, or table by motion the application. The Commission may impose necessary conditions and safeguards in conjunction with their recommendation.

Review and Decision by the City Council. The City Council shall review the application after the Planning Commission has made its recommendation. The City Council is the only body with the authority to make a final determination and either approve or deny the application.
